Overview

Having already delivered a number of websites for cultural organisations (Bristol Pride, In Between Time, Bristol Festival of Ideas), Spike Island recognised that we could help simplify their complicated offering consisting of multiple strands.

Key requirements

- To build a new home for a vast archive of information
- To include a modular page builder for different content types including repeating and one-off events
- Clear information about how to visit and accessibility
- A simple-to-update CMS for the in-house content team
- Streamline the process for new Associate Member sign-ups

Reference

---

“Atomic Smash are an absolute pleasure to work with. We have gained so much from our website project with them, and continue to benefit from their knowledge and approach to development of WordPress sites and their understanding of UX design, tracking engagement and eCommerce. Their process is meticulous, patient and professional. We now have a website which serves our audiences and our team, whilst having so much potential for future growth.”

Jane Faram, Communications Manager
Spike Island

Project successes

- Streamlined process for managing new associates, including monthly recurring direct debit payments
